PRESENTS:

Executive Skills Series: Leading Diverse Communities Beyond Conflict

Hours: 16

Prerequisites: none

Min/Max Students: 15/25

ACE Credit Recommendation:

In the lower division baccalaureate /associate degree category, 1 semester hour in Fire Science, Fire Administration, Personnel or Human Resources Management, Ethics, or Philosophy.

Description:

This course will provide senior executives in fire and emergency service organizations with information, perspectives, and tools they need to harmonize the diverse audiences that comprise their work and stakeholder communities. The course will be a springboard for forming and launching plans of action. It will break new ground in addressing fire and emergency service culture and challenges and that position its leadership in a complex and sometimes difficult society. Finally, the course will help participants mobilize support and identify resources that can make a difference. The course is intended to be a "launch pad" for action projects that students can undertake when they return to work.

Course Goals:

Upon completion of this course, the students will be able to:

1. To provide you with information, perspectives, and tools for taking actions that enable you to provide leadership in your work relations and stakeholder communities.

2. To be a springboard for launching Action Projects.

3. To break new ground in addressing fire service culture and opportunities.

4. To position fire service leadership in a complex, sometimes difficult, society.

5. To help you mobilize support and resources for making a difference.

6. To provide an opportunity for benchmarking best practices; to conduct a reality check and self-assessment; and to identify challenges facing your community roles(s).
